Episode 024 highlights: 1,300+ concurrent viewers during livestream. Live poll: 76% of audience does not pay for AI tools. Sam explained the o3 vs 4o distinction, three common AI myths, and hidden features most paid users miss.

Topics Sam Can Speak On

1. Why 76% of people still don't pay for AI (and should)

The competitive gap between AI users and non-users is widening. Most people who do pay aren't using the features they're paying for.

2. The AI maturity trap: Why most companies are stuck at Stage 1

A 4-stage framework for enterprise AI adoption, and why tool training alone doesn't move organizations forward.

3. What training 3,000 professionals taught me about AI adoption

Real patterns from working with BOCHK (1,500 people, 13 countries), Chow Tai Fook, HKJC, and others.

4. The hidden features in AI tools that most users never find

Model selection, deep search, Gmail integration — the features that transform paid AI from "slightly better" to "completely different."

5. AI and attention: How AI tools can actually help focus

Practical tools and frameworks for knowledge workers struggling with information overload and fractured attention.
